

INTERPRETIVE TRANSFORMATION SYSTEM AND METHOD

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Various systems, methods, and programs stored in a computer-readable

5 medium to perform a transformation are provided. In one embodiment, a transformation method is provided that comprises the steps of providing a transformation processor, providing a prototype transform and an interpretive transform, and, transforming at least one source document into an output document with the transformation processor by interpreting a number of 10 interpreted instructions in the prototype transform with a number of interpretive instructions from the interpretive transform.